The late Judicial Election.

The election in the Rockingham Judical the unpardonable indifference of the people n matters directly touching their lives and able and excellent gentlemen never presented They were also widely and popularly known in the section of the State in which they were candidates, Messrs. Baldwin and

Yet the election returns show that there profoundest apathy and indifference, in no inbeing polled, and in the majority of the counties not one-fourth of the voters going to the polls. The absence, however, of all politifeeling or bias was a pleasant feature in the late election. The voters seem, in the midst of the political excitement pervading the State, to have agreed upon a truce so far as the judicial election was concerned. Thus we find the sturdy Democracy of the Tenth Legion voting for Mr. Baldwin almost en masse, although that gentleman is a Whig, whereas had Mr Baldwin been a candidate for Congress he would not have been heard of in the greatDemocratic counties of Shenandoah and Rockingham, except as the recipient of the microscopic Whig vote of those counties. Although we regret the increasing apathy of the people with reference to the judicial elections, yet we rejoice at the aversion of the people of Virginia to mingling the filthy waters of political strife with our indicial elections. The conservatism of Virginia in this particular, stands forth in criking contrast with that partisan spirit in other States, which has not spared even the judicial ermine.-Richmond Examiner. States Fair, in Richmond, and the Virginia State Fair at Petersburg, writes of him thus: "But one of the very best saddle horses we have ever seen, was the superb dark bay stallion exhi bited by N. Berkeley, esq., of Loudoun county, Va. He was of the Telegraph breed, or, as it is most familiarly known in Maryland, the "Tom" breed; certainly the best breed altogether for saddle horses of easy, yet repid gait, in this country; and particularly adapted, by their kind and gentle dispositions, to ladies' use. We watched the rapid tirm, but easy gait, as he was repeatedly ridden around the ring, with the same admiration which have always felt for the admirable breed for the ounty, whose stock of Tom horses are particularly fine: but we have never seen any of the breed so large and very desirable, as the stallion exhibited

TOM G. is a rich bay, 16 hands I inch high, of strong bone, great muscle, and superior action; was sired by Rogers' Tom Telegraph, and out of a famous Jack O'Diamond saddle mare. He ill divide the next week between Leesburg and Wheatland, will go to Leesburg on Monday, and to Wheatland, on Thursday, and alternately between the stands, being at home every other week.

JOY TO THE ADMIRERS OF A FINE HEAD OF RICH GLOSSY HAIR. Talk of beauty, it cannot exist without a fine head of hair; then read the following, and if you ask more, see circular around each bottle, and no one can doubt. PROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORA

TIVE.—We call the attention of all, old and young to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids; and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair eserve its color, and keep it from falling, to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. call then upon the bald, the grey, or diseased in scalp, to use it, and surely the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongue of thousands. The Agent for PROF. I don't know as any of the kind is used in this place; you may have a market for many bottles after it is known. RUFUS PRATT. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1856.—PROF. WOOD

Dear Sir - Your HAIR RESTORATIVE is proving itself beneficial to me. The front, and also the back part of my head almost lost its covering in fact baid. I have used but two half pint bottles of your Restorative, and now the top of my head is well studded with a promising crop of young hair, and the tront is also receiving its benefit. I have tried other preparations without any benefit whatever. I think from my own personal recomcendation I can induce many others to try it .-Yours respectfully. D. R. THOMAS, M.
